MAY. III Month.

Read much; the Mind, which never can be ſtill,
If not intent on Good, is prone to Ill. (find,
And where bright Thoughts, or Reas'nings juſt you
Repoſe them careful in your innmoſt Mind.
To deck his Chloe's Boſom thus the Swain
With pleaſing Toil ſurveys th' enamel'd Plain,
With Care ſelects each fragrant flow'r he meets,
And forms one Garland of their mingled ſweets.

1	Moon	11 58	2	On the 21ſt of this month, Anno 1692,
2	riſes	12 56	3	the brave admiral Ruſſel beat the French
3	9 A. 25	M. 56	4	fleet near La Hogue, and burnt, ſunk, and
4	10 30	2 5	5	deſtroy'd, near 20 ſail of their men of war,
5	11 24	3 9	6	in ſight of Lewis XIV and K. James II,
6	12 6	4 10	7	who were encamped on the ſhore with a
7	M. 6	5 3	8	conſiderable army that was to be tranſport-
8	0 29	5 55	8	ed under convoy of that fleet to Ireland,
9	0 57	6 44	9	in order to replace the latter on the throne
10	1 22	7 33	10	of the 3 kingdoms. That deſign was de-
11	1 46	8 16	11	feated, and this glorious victory obtained
12	2 8	9 0	12	with very little loſs on our ſide. But

For (to mention a late inſtance only) on the 3d of this ſame month, in the year preceding, theſe gallant and ſucceſsful ſeamen, defeated at once two grand deſigns of the enemy (the retaking of Louiſburgh, and total deſtruction of our Eaſt-India ſettlements) by attacking their joint fleets, juſt after they came out of port, taking 6 men of war of the line, and 6 Indiamen, with ſome others of leſſer note, and diſperſing the reſt.
